

Biography

Prof Anita Ramesh, MBBS (Hons), DCH (UK), MD, DNB, DM (Medical Oncology), MSC Oncology (UK).
MBA (Health Service Management)
Prof & HOD,
Dept of Medical Oncology,
Apollo Specialty Hospitals,
Tamil Nadu.

Dr Anita Ramesh is a graduate of the University of Calcutta, who holds specialization in DM (Medical Oncology) from a prestigious college in Chennai. She completed her MSc (Oncology) from the University of Nottingham, U.K. and a certification programme in Medical Oncology from the European Society of Medical Oncology. Her specialization covers all the areas of cancer management and treatment and she has been practicing in the field of Adult Medical Oncology, Pediatric Oncology and Peripheral Blood Stem Cell Transplant (PBSCT) from the last 12 years.

Dr Anita Ramesh was awarded a scholarship by the British Council and has received a Fellowship in Pediatric Oncology from the International Outreach Programme and St. Jude Children's Hospital, Memphis, US. She has more than 50 international presentations and 44 publications in peer review journals to her credit, with 5 clinical trials as Principal Investigator.

Dr Anita Ramesh is also Member of various organizations like the International Society of Pediatric Oncology (SIOP), the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO), and the European Society of Medical Oncology (ESMO).